To Whom It May Concern,

Re: Elin Jonsson

I have known Elin for the year she took my Writing for the News Media and Reporting Specialties subjects.

I have found her to be an exceptional student. She makes the extra effort necessary to ensure her work is of the highest quality. She is a self-starter, and objective reporter or creative thinker as the situation requires. She is reliable and always meets – often beats – deadlines.

I have also enjoyed Elin's energetic and upbeat personality – clearly a glass-half-full individual.

If I were in a position to hire her for a news reporting job, I would have total confidence that she would exceed my expectations. She would be an asset to any organization.

Please let me know if you require any further information.

Kind regards,
